Editorial

Woah, it's Autumn and that means…leaves everywhere!
Yep, it's noticeable, the trees have had enough, well those that hadn't already just given up because of the endless spate of heatwaves, which means leaves, leaves and more leaves. This also means the inevitable clogging of drains, so if you are wandering about, please just kick the leaves out of the grates, it really does help. I think we've had our annual allocation of street cleaning which seemed to be concentrated around August for some reason.

So, what been happening? Well, firstly, some sad news from our neighbouring village Spreyton, where the landlord of the Tom Cobley, Roger Cudlip,, sadly passed away. He will be greatly missed.

By the time you get the hard copy of this, Yeo!Cider will probably have already happened up at the hall on Saturday 3rd. At the time of writing, we have everything pretty much under control, and that with some rather trying distractions. The day will undoubtedly be the usual appley success. We hope you come/came along (depending on when you read this)!

October also sees Halloween, which has always been a bit of a hit for the children of Yeoford. For those wanting to invite children to trick or treat, please make it very evident, for those trick or treating, please by conscious of those who really do not want any part of it and just have fun!

This month, I've moved on from MS Publisher – look at the difference, it's so different!

And finally, we want content…please, please send something in, the VV needs it!

Cheers… The Editor

Top Tip!

When catering for four people and you're food shopping for spinach, be sure to use two trollies. You'll need the extra one just for the spinach itself, just so your guests can eat a portion the size of a roast potato once it's boiled and drained.

CREDITON HAMLETS PARISH COUNCIL

After the summer break the Council met on 7th September. As everyone will probably have noticed there is a considerable amount of work being undertaken by Openreach to upgrade the broadband infrastructure across the parish, this is involving a significant number of, mainly short-term, temporary road closures/diversions.

The Council was given a short presentation by AbilityNet, a UK based charity offering FREE IT training to the disabled and aged 55+, it was noted that this might be useful to those with emergency alarm devices especially in relation to the proposed termination of analogue telephone services. AbilityNet can be contacted via: 0300 180 0028; digitalskills@abilitynet.org.uk; abilitynet.org.uk/BTDigitalSkills

The Council usually meets on the first Monday of each month. The next full Council meeting will be on Monday 5th October at the Community Hall, Yeoford. If you would like to read the minutes of the September Parish Council Meeting they are on the PC website. Please contact one of your councillors or Charlotte Long, the Parish Clerk (clerk@creditonhamlets-pc.gov.uk or 01363 84558) if there is something you would like discussed at the next Council meeting. Members of the public are very welcome to attend any meeting and speak during the public session. Meeting details and contact information for Councillors are on the Parish Council website (www.creditonhamlets-pc.gov.uk).

Parish Voluntary Wildlife Warden

The end of the drought a last. Rain, glorious rain, gentle and regular, is slowly bringing the green back to our fields and gardens. Yet the ground is still very dry and the Binne and Yeo rivers are puddles with barely a trickle.

Thankfully, there are half a dozen or so ponds up here on the heights above Woodland Head and most have not dried out. There are dragonflies and grass snakes all across this hilltop.

The swallows have had a great year too at Shortacombe Farm and have now started a new colony my field shelter. I think I need to build a pond here too now.

Their success has brought a predator of dragonflies, a summer visitor, the Hobby hawk. I have caught glimpses of this bird of prey over five years but finally spotted one on the wing for more than a moment. A recent conversation with a local farmers wife confirmed they are successfully breeding in our parish and that our goshawk has also been seen nesting.

Hedgehogs have done less well and I would appreciate any updates of hedgehogs that have survived the summer.

Many of my smaller birds have disappeared, leaving just the dunnocks. Wild bees have survived and are very noisy in Tilley Wood's above Binneford.

Our trees have coped really well considering. Though not a single acorn on the oaks.

Farmers and their annual crops have not been so lucky. The arrival of bluetongue in livestock was devastating for those affected.

For everyone, man and nature, This summers drought and the heat were exhausting.

I hope now that we can all appreciate the shade and shelter of a old tree and how important it is to retain them.

I would really appreciate any news of how wildlife has fared in your corner of the parish.

An appeal to all our villagers

If you, your children or anyone you know plays in the recreation ground please always check with them that they have returned the goals to the edge of the field.

This is because the Air Ambulance CANNOT LAND if the goals are in the middle of the field.

If you pass the recreation ground or see anybody playing with the goals in the centre, could you please remind them (politely) that they should be returned to the edge after use, or move them back if you find them abandoned like this.

RECIPE OF THE MONTH

SPICY BUTTERNUT SQUASH SOUP

Serves 4; Prep time: 15mins-ish; Cooking time: 40mins-ish

Ingredients

1 butternut squash (peeled and deseeded)
2 tbsp olive oil
1 tbsp butter
2 onions (diced)
1 garlic clove (sliced)
2 red chillies (deseeded and chopped)
850ml hot vegetable stock
4 tbsp crème fraîche

Instructions

1. Heat oven to 200C/180C fan/gas 6.
2. Cut the squash into chunks, 3-4cm, then chuck in a roasting tin with 1 tbsp of olive oil.
3. Roast for 30mins, turning once about halfway through.
4. While the squash cooks, melt the butter with the 1 tbsp olive oil in a saucepan, then add the onions, garlic and most of the chillies.
5. Cover and cook on a very low heat for 15-20 mins until the onions are completely soft.
6. Make the vegetable stock if you're using cubes or powder.
7. Tip the squash into the pan, add the stock and crème fraîche, then blitz with a stick blender or liquidiser until smooth.
8. Return to the pan, gently reheat (watch out for molten gloopy bubbles – place a lid over to protect things), then season. Serve in bowls with more crème fraîche stirred into it and top with any remaining chopped chilli.

Village Musings, Potholes and Unexpected Facts

By Monika Falana

A light-hearted wander through autumn, village improvements and curious knowledge

So, I have been asked to write an article to help fill the pages of the Village Voice. I am not entirely sure whether this was a good idea, as I have never written anything for a publication before. Still, everyone has to start somewhere, so here goes!

Autumn is upon us. The trees are changing colour, although this year they do not seem to be displaying quite as many cheerful shades as usual. Normally, everything looks bright and colourful, but during my walks along the village roads with the dogs, the countryside appears just a little bit tired.

I blame the hot weather. I know, I know, I should not complain about having roughly three months of sunshine, but it has certainly left its mark on nature and its inhabitants. Now we have the forecast impact of El Niño to look forward to. I have already placed my order for a canoe. If things become particularly wet, I may also start offering village ferry services. Dogs travel free, naturally.

On a more positive note, the bendy bit of road on the way to Crediton has finally been repaired. Admittedly, it looks slightly as though a toddler got hold of a bucket of tar and was told to ‘express themselves’, but we should be grateful for small mercies.

Our car tyres are certainly grateful, and they have asked me to pass on their thanks.

The telephone box still appears to be out of order, but it has been repainted, so at least it looks good. It may not connect you to anyone, but it can now disappoint you in a much smarter and more attractive setting. Progress comes in many forms.

At this point, I felt the article needed a little extra sparkle. Therefore, in the interests of education, entertainment and filling the remaining space, here are some fun facts:

Fun facts

- Iceland doesn't have mosquitos. Sounds like a heavenly holiday destination.
- More chocolate is bought at Brussels Airport than anywhere else in the world – who knew?
- While you may be used to saying cheers and clinking your glasses with friends, you should never do this in Hungary. This custom goes back to 1848 when Austria defeated Hungary in the revolution. The Austrians celebrated by clinking their beer glasses while toasting their victory. Ever since, Hungarians have not clinked their glasses during a toast.
- Love castles? You'll adore the Czech Republic. The country has 932 castles and 1,187 stately homes – that's more than any other country in Europe. Even if you visited one castle a day, it would take you over 2.5 years to see them all!
- La Sagrada Familia is taking longer to build than the pyramids - while the extraordinary ancient pyramids of Egypt were constructed in 85 years, between 2589 and 2504 BC, La Sagrada Familia has been under construction for the past 138 years.
- In Switzerland, you're not allowed to mow your lawn, build anything, wash your car or hang clothes out to dry on Sundays.
- Wales has a town with 57 letters in its name - Try pronouncing the name of this Welsh town – "Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgogerychwyrndrobwllllantysiliogogogoch" It might look like someone dropped something on their keyboard, but it's a real name, and it means "cave".

So there we are. Interesting things are happening all around us, often without us even noticing. Whether it is a freshly decorated telephone box that cannot make telephone calls, an enthusiastically resurfaced road, or a country where Sunday laundry is apparently out of the question, there is always something worth talking about.

If you enjoyed this little ramble through village life and assorted international knowledge, I am delighted. If you did not, I can only apologise and promise that the telephone box remains available if you would like to make a complaint. Unfortunately, it still does not work.

October sees the start of the shooting season which means the return of our Tuesday Theme Nights. Always popular with restaurant bookings and takeaways. Starting on October 20th with Pizza Night and November 3rd with Burger Night. The menus will be on the website nearer the dates.

We have had a few enquiries into our Christmas Day Takeaway Lunch, if interested please let us know as this will help our decision.

Please note we are closed Saturday 24th October - Monday 2nd November inclusive.
